

Todd & Weld LLP

Personal Injury

Our personal injury attorneys work tirelessly and effectively to alleviate the physical, financial, and emotional injuries caused by the negligence of others.

Attorneys in Todd & Weld's personal injury practice, led by Partners Nick Carter and Maria Davis, represent victims of traumatic injuries caused by the negligence or intentional misconduct of others, including cases involving medical malpractice, automobile accidents, construction accidents, assault, food poisoning, premises accidents, industrial accidents, and product-related accidents.

Our goal in every case is to improve the lives of individuals and families by helping them to alleviate the devastating physical, emotional, and financial burdens they suffer because of negligent conduct of others. Our attorneys have built a reputation for unsurpassed preparation of cases and relentless dedication to our clients who put their trust in us.

We have a long track record of achieving favorable outcomes for our clients, including multimillion-dollar verdicts and settlements. Our lawyers deploy cutting-edge courtroom presentation tools that allow them to tell your story effectively and with compassion. Expert testimony is often required to establish liability and prove damages in personal injury cases. Our firm has established an extensive network of professional experts who can provide the evidence as needed to support your case.

In addition to providing skilled advocacy, our lawyers are sensitive to the concerns of individuals and their loved ones who are managing the fallout of traumatic physical and emotional injuries. We spend the time needed to answer your questions and keep you informed as your case moves forward.

If you or a loved one has suffered injuries in an accident, contact us to discuss your legal rights.
