

Todd & Weld LLP

Premises Liability

Todd & Weld attorneys are determined and devoted advocates on behalf of clients who have been the victims of accidents resulting from the negligence of property owners.

Premises liability personal injury cases result from the failure of a property owner or others in control of property to keep the premises in a safe condition. We have substantial experience representing clients who have been injured because of negligent operation or maintenance of premises.

If you or a loved one has suffered a premises liability injury, contact us to discuss your legal rights.
